Why did you get involved with CSPA?

Doing things for others without anything in return can oftentimes lead to a sense of peace and purpose. As someone who has struggled with skin cancer, having positive ways to come to terms with life can be helpful.

What do you perceive as outcomes of your involvement?

There are individuals that need the resources that CSPA provides but oftentimes the organization does not have the amount of people needed to help serve everyone. Volunteering can ensure that more people are getting the aid and assistance they need.

Being involved in CSPA can lead to you making friends that you might not have met otherwise. Also, volunteering is an awesome way to network and get to know people because you never know who you might meet and how they could be a resource to you later in life! Networking is important for many reasons and what better first impression could you have than doing a good deed for others?

Has a personal connection with the skin patient community inspired your participation?

Having a personal connection with the skin patient community gives me the opportunity to work with like-minded individuals with similar goals and values. Being on the board has allowed me to develop skills and gain knowledge through experience.
